Resident celebrates 104th birthday

By Janice Harrington

Still puffing away on cigarettes, long time area resident Suzie Patchell celebrated her 104th birthday on Sunday, and became what is believed to be the second oldest person living in Alberta.

Jim Andres, spokesperson for the Mountain View Health Care Centre where Patchell is a resident, said she had no statistics to prove the claim, but believed Patchell was the second oldest because of an article which ran in The Calgary Herald a few years ago.

"At that time, they said she was the third oldest person in Alberta, but I am pretty sure someone has passed away since then, making her the second."

Still alert and enthusiastic, Patchell celebrated her milestone at a party in her honor at the health care centre on Friday, February 7. Celebrating with her was her 96-year-old sister Nelly Rinehart and her 84-year-old brother-in-law Bob Patchell.

"We certainly have a history of longevity in the family," said Don Rinehart, Patchell's nephew. "Although I couldn't tell you why because my aunt still smokes everyday."

Rinehart said his aunt and her family first came to the Mountain View area from Idaho in 1903.

"If you get her [Patchell] on the subject, she'll tell you all about it; coming up in a covered wagon when this was the North West Territories. They had planned to go all the way to Peace River, but I guess their mother decided they had gone far enough by the time they reached Calgary."

Patchell and her family settled on a homestead near Cremona where they made their living by farming. She moved to Armstrong, B.C. with her husband, Fred Patchell in 1941, but returned to Didsbury just over three years ago. She was the fourth eldest child in her family.

Generation gap

104-year-old Suzie Patchell celebrated her birthday Friday at the Mountain View Health Care Centre. The oldest member of her family, she celebrated with the youngest—her 3-year-old grand nephew Collin McDonald.

Statistics Canada said ages of Canadians are still being compiled after the recent census and should be released by April. The provincial government does not keep information about the age of Albertans on file.

Winter Festival plans firm

By Janice Harrington

Plans for the 4th Annual Didsbury Winter Festival are all firmed up as the town gears up for this chilly celebration February 21 to 23.

Shirley Durell, F.C.S.S. Recreational Secretary for the Town said organization of the festival is nearly complete and promotional material advertising events should be coming out soon.

Durell said all the successful events of past years are planned, as well as a few new activities.

"We have some teen stuff planned for this year, where we can focus on our local talent. There will be a lip sync contest and talent show on the Friday night and that promises to be fun for everybody," she said.

Also new this year will be films on winter themes to be shown at the complex.

"We wanted to have something for everybody, including those people who couldn't get around, or were just tired and wanted a break. . . ."

Durell said Sunday activities will also be changed a little this year to focus more on the family, so all members can participate. Besides all the new events scheduled, organizers expect the most successful activities will be the same as in the past, including the pancake breakfast, hosted by the Didsbury Senior Ramblers, and the family skating party on Saturday between noon and 2 p.m.

Also included in this year's festival are a dance with TC &

Company, a figure skating carnival, beef on a bun dinner, Rosco the Clown, and a winter raffle.

"I know this year is going to be a lot of fun, the festival just keeps getting bigger and better every year," said Durell. "People should watch for posters and other advertising to come out because they won't want to miss any of it."

If you have any questions about the festival, contact the Town office.

BOP Fundraiser a success

By Janice Harrington

A presentation of the Cotton Patch Gospel produced by the Didsbury and District Ministerial Association raised over $1,000 for the Build Our Pool fund.

At a cheque presentation on Friday, February 7, Pastor Richard Pahl, Secretary/Treasurer of the DDMA said they attracted over 750 people to the Rosebud Theatre's presentation at the Westglen High School gym.

"And I believe that may be a modest estimate because the gym was certainly filled to seating capacity and more."

Pahl said the play was offered to the public at no charge, but the Association did ask for donations to help out the BOP Society. A total of $2,600.78 was raised, leaving an after-expense donation to the fund of $1,240.

Lance Plewis, President of the BOP Society was pleased with the success of the fundraiser, which was held entirely on the initiative of the DDMA.

"They came to us with this idea," Plewis said. "And it was a great boost. I wish we could hold 10 of these a month!"

Plewis said the BOP fund, started last fall, is now sitting at over $10,000, thanks to the donation from the Ministerial Association. Most of the money in the fund to date has been raised through the sale of hot dogs and a few private donations.

The BOP Society is currently busy looking for architects to design a brand new indoor swimming facility for the town of Didsbury. They are hoping to create a design that can be built in three phases, beginning with an area to house a lap pool and a children's pool, then a whirlpool and finally completing the facility with a water slide.

Plewis said the Society, which meets once a month, is currently gearing up for a new year of fundraising after taking a short Christmas break. They have planned a St. Patrick's Day dance for March 14, which will feature a live band. The Society is also keeping busy visiting pools around the province to study different design ideas.

"But we still have no firm decisions on anything," said Plewis. "We still have to wait to see whether or not a pool will even be built, and we will find that out after the plebiscite, which is expected in March. After that we will firm up the plans."

Cold and snow expected

Long range weather forecasts for south central Alberta paint a grim picture, with snow and lows around the minus 20 mark for the rest of the week. Possibility of precipitation for the end of the week remains at about 40 percent. Winds from the east will also bring high wind chills. Normal temperatures for this time of the year are lows near minus 15 and highs near minus 3.

College and Town explore tourism concept

A public meeting is being held Thursday, Feb. 13, 1992 for what may become a new tourism magnet in the Olds area.

It is all part of an innovative tourism concept being dubbed "EduFarm" promoting both agricultural and horticultural attractions. Representatives from both Olds College and the Town of Olds' Tourism Action Committee are actively involved in the proposed project and will be present at the meeting to be held in the College's Alumni Centre at 7:30 p.m.

"We want people to see, hear, touch and experience country living," says EduFarm Steering Committee Chairperson and College Student Services Dean, Sharon Carry. "The underlying idea is that EduFarm would allow these kinds of discoveries to happen, similar to that of Drumheller's Tyrell Museum, where people take an active role in learning about the attractions through hands-on experience. Many of the people living in larger urban centres are at least three generations away from the farm."

EduFarm would also become a tool not only for cross-selling other tourism assets in the West Central Tourism Region, but also for boosting their economy, primarily that in Olds where the resource would be situated. The West Central Company of Adventurers works to promote the heritage, culture, agriculture, and natural resources of this region and, therefore, would act as a strong economic drawing force for a community such as Olds.

Carry says it's important to know whether or not the community is open to what EduFarm could involve first before detailed planning takes place. "We see this as an extension of our educational market. We have been demonstrating agriculture and horticulture here since 1911 so a concept like EduFarm is certainly appropriate . . . but that doesn't mean we go into this kind of a project with our eyes shut. It's important to know whether or not the community is open to what this could involve," Carry adds.

With some $200 million in capital assets, Olds College has the nucleus of what is needed to make the promotional idea become a reality. Preliminary ideas for attractions and highlights envisioned with EduFarm might include:

- an interpretive farm demonstration area;
- greenhouses;
- riding stables;
- atriums;
- weekend family farm vacation;
- international displays;
- a wetlands area;
- historical fashion displays, etc.

The EduFarm Steering Committee selected a team of tourism management consultants headed by Pannell Kerr Forster, of Edmonton, to undertake EduFarm's tourism marketing study. Other consultants were Great Plains Research Consultants and Hutchinson Macko Rand Architects. "We have a lot of faith in the consultants chosen by the Committee," says Carry. "They are all leading specialists in the tourism and leisure time industries."

Their work will involve a market analysis, concept development, and a feasibility assessment. A final report is scheduled for April, 1992.

If you have any questions or suggestions about EduFarm or the public meeting, please contact EduFarm Steering Committee Chairperson, Sharon Carry, at (403) 556-8337.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

A Lost Art?

By Janice Harrington

Whatever happened to dinner conversation? You know the kind I mean, where families sat down around a communal table at a specified time every evening and discussed their day, the weather, crop conditions, or anything for that matter. These days, it is amazing if family members even see each other at dinner time. Most race in from a long day at the office, school, or shopping, then race out for tennis, swimming, golf, more work or more shopping, with just enough time in between to gobble down fast food or microwaveable plastic stuff. And the days families do eat together, it is as likely to be in front of the television with some members so engrossed, they wind up buttering their hands instead of their rolls. It seems families never talk to each other anymore, and that is a shame. Families need to talk, to find things out about each other, like how Dad plotted to escape a German POW camp in WWII, or the kooky story of how Billy broke his finger trying to bake Toll House cookies. The point is, dinner conversation isn't just about politics or other high-minded topics, it's us, and that is something you can't read in a history book.

A Pat On The Back

Definite kudos to the Didsbury and District Ministerial Association for producing not only a very generous donation for the Build Our Pool fund, but also an affordable evening of entertainment for families suffering in these recessionary times. With good, old-fashioned, cheap fun like that, who needs a VCR?

Misleading propaganda on bilingualism

Dear Editor:

We are wondering who sent the misleading propaganda on bilingualism which appeared on page three of your Jan. 30 issue of the Mountain View Shopping Guide.

It seems that since Premier Getty made his comments against official bilingualism there has been an almost frantic haste on the part of certain interests to brainwash us into thinking that nearly everybody favors official bilingualism and that it is essential to the unity of this country. All of which is the absolute opposite to the truth of the matter. A recent TV poll discovered that 75% of Albertans agree with Getty in his disapproval of official bilingualism. As for holding the country together, bilingualism has caused untold trouble and expense, not to mention discrimination against English-speaking people in the matter of jobs and promotions in the public service. I need not elaborate on this—the facts speak for themselves. Canada has its own brand of apartheid.

If we don't get rid of official bilingualism the country will indeed fall apart. There was peace and harmony in Canada until the B & B Commission started the trouble.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Robert H. Ross

WHAT'S THE VALUE OF VOLUNTEER TIME IN CANADA EACH YEAR?

$13.2 BILLION

25,000 students turned away

Dear Editor:

The provincial government is robbing Alberta's youth of its future and denying skills to its workforce.

While numbers of students being shut out of post-secondary institutions is rocketing upwards, the Conservatives persevere in this strategy of inaction and inadequate funding.

I am commenting from the "Liberal Opposition Report" on "Advanced Education Accessibility and Program Cuts" which dramatically illustrates Alberta's post-secondary woes affecting institutions throughout the province at the college and technical institute as well as university levels.

The Conservative Legacy is clear: 25,915 applicants were turned down by Alberta post-secondary institutions for this academic year, including 2,295 at the university level, 10,258 at the college level and 13,362 at technical institutes. Simultaneously, 20 programs were cut or suspended during 1991 due to lack of adequate financial resources.

Since this government's policies encourage cuts to programs and sever the aspirations of students, they are placing Alberta's future under attack.

Aside from the human aspect of so many young lives put on hold, the province loses in a big way because we're not equipping our children with the high level of skills they'll need to compete in a fast-changing world.

We need an educated workforce to diversify our economy, and it's just plain irresponsible not to be investing as much as we can afford in education. Let's quit spending money on low priority items and invest in our future.

Wilson seeks Reform nomination

Alan Wilson, President of the Wild Rose Association of the Reform Party of Canada today announced his resignation from the Association Executive, stating that he intends to seek the membership's endorsement as the Reform Candidate who will represent Wild Rose in the next Federal election.

Wilson is a professional engineer who had worked in the Sundre area in the gas processing industry, and has for 14 years lived with his wife, daughter and son on a farm near Carstairs. He is Vice President of Engineering with an energy consulting firm, Applied Engineering Sciences Group of Calgary. "As Wild Rose is one of the largest Reform Riding Association, I expect that interest will be very high in the activities leading up to the June 13, 1992 Nominating Meeting," he said.

Environmental business sector

Hon. Roy Brassard

Constituency

Environmental Business Sector
Albertans have become so educated and active in environmentalism that an environmental business sector' has emerged. This new and expanding business field will help to further diversify our economy, generate spin-off benefits including employment and wealth, and contribute to the overall health of our province. Let me explain.

Ten years ago, how many of us were using soaps without phosphates, inks made from soya, or backyard composters? Few! But now, we support industries that recycle paper and hire waste management consulting firms to do environmental impact assessments. As well, nearly all retail outlets carry 'environmentally friendly' products. Clearly, the free market is operating well and the entrepreneurial spirit is alive and at work.

To better analyze, promote and foster the growth of the environmental business sector here at home, your government is cooperating with other Western Canadian Governments (B.C., Saskatchewan and Manitoba) and the federal government, to establish a list of existing capabilities, strength and expertise in this field. By staying abreast of developments, Albertans will be able to maintain our position in the forefront of this area.

Historically, Alberta's economy was heavily dependent upon resource based industries, particularly agriculture, oil and gas. Now, Alberta's economy is more diversified, stable and stronger. Natural expansions have taken place in the tourism, manufacturing, and construction industries, the advanced technologies and the small business and service sectors. Together these economic endeavours have put more than 100,000 additional Albertans to work since 1985 and generated considerable spin-off investments and sales. The environmental business sector has been another welcome contributor to this effort.

Among the provinces, we, in Alberta, have the most educated workforce, devote the most per capita to research and development, and have the best venture climate for business. Albertans are in the best position to capitalize on opportunities presenting themselves in the environmental business sector.

Not only will we all benefit from a healthier environment directly through the air we breathe, water we drink, and food we eat, we can also benefit from a more diversified economy spurred by increased environmentalism.

If you need to contact me, desire any information, or just want to voice your concerns and opinions please call me at our constituency office at 556-3132, or my Edmonton office at 422-0141 (collect).

Agriculture Minister Bill McKnight responded recently to public statements questioning the provision of information to farmers about potential GATT implications on grain transportation.

"There has been much public speculation on why we have chosen to provide information of the proposed Dunkel Text regarding the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) and how it might impact talks on grain transportation," Mr. McKnight said. "We have made this information available at Transportation Talks meetings, and comments I have had are consistent with it. This information is very recent and I believe farmers must have it as they discuss transportation issues. Indeed, the Transportation Talks would not be complete or effective without it."

No Government decisions have been made on any of the issues under discussion. Federal and Provincial Ministers of Agriculture will await the Report Of The Independent, Third Party Group who was contracted to organize and facilitate the meetings. Next steps will be considered at that time.

On Jan. 20, 1992, the Facilitators began distributing at the meetings a fact sheet which provided information on potential implications for transportation of a proposed Draft GATT Text put forward by GATT Director General Arthur Dunkel.

This led to some misunderstanding about the Federal position with regard to the five methods of payment options now under consideration for payment of the $721 Million Annual (CROW) Benefit. The money the Federal Government gives annually to the railways to move western grain to port position.

Mr. McKnight also said that all five methods of payment options continue to be on the table and open for discussion as part of the Transportation Talks, all five options, including the status quo, are being examined equally. Mr. McKnight went on to say that his bottom line is that the $721 million the Federal Government now puts into grain transportation must remain in western agriculture. "My role as Minister of Agriculture is to ensure that producers have the most up-to-date information as they consider transportation issues, with these talks we are ensuring that farmers keep pace with international trade development."

A cotton for Canada?

It may just be Canada's answer to cotton.

Milkweed, an innocuous weed found throughout most of North America, is being eyed in Canada as the fibre of the future.

Government researchers are working with industry to look at the possibility of producing a new textile—a woven or knitted or nonwoven product—using milkweed.

Agriculture Canada research has already shown that the weed can be successfully cultivated and the floss from the pod of the plant harvested and used as a fibre substitute for down in sportswear, or as an absorbent fibre for the paper industry.

The success of milkweed fibre would make it one of the few textile products made in Canada. And because it's a natural fibre, the products would be biodegradable.

"The study of milkweed production proved very successful," says Dr. Diane Benoit, a weed scientist at Agriculture Canada's Research Station in Saint-Jean-Sur-Richelieu, Quebec. "This could become a crop of the future."

The centre started the research from the ground up, first experimenting with cultivating the weed. Research indicated the survival of the crop improved when the plants were started in the greenhouse and the seedlings transferred to the field in early June. The seedlings were planted in large rows at high densities and two years after planting produced up to 475 kg. of fibre per hectare—a yield comparable to cotton.

Milkweed does not require excessive manpower to maintain and a minimal amount of fertilizer is used to cultivate the crop, Dr. Benoit notes.

It's a fibre with a hollow structure and a waxy covering which acts as a good water repellent. That makes it a good substitute for down in sportswear which tends to retain water. A second potential use, Dr. Benoit says, is as a cellulosic fibre to make absorbing paper products.

A Nebraska firm is the only company now producing milkweed floss for commercial sale as a filler fibre, Dr. Benoit says. There's strong market potential for milkweed as a substitute for down which fluctuates in supply and price because it is harvested from the wild.

In Canada, government scientists are collaborating with researchers at McGill University and the Textile Technology Centre in Quebec in exploring the potential for producing a new textile product. They are working on breeding a higher quality milkweed fibre with the longer fibres required to produce woven, knitted or nonwoven fabrics.

The next step, according to the centre's Dr. Gerard Lombard, is to develop a mechanical process for seeding and harvesting the milkweed crop and cleaning the fibre.

The researchers plan to work on developing textile products by blending milkweed fibre with cotton or synthetic fibres, Dr. Lombard says.

"We would expect to see this new crop develop on a commercial level within the next five to 10 years," says Dr. Benoit.

Prairie farm support deadline

Grains and oilseeds producers in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are reminded that the deadline for applications under the $800-million federal farm aid program is Feb. 12, 1992.

Applications must be postmarked or received by the Farm Support and Adjustment Measures II (FSAM II) office in Regina by Feb. 12 to be considered under the Prairie grains and oilseeds component of the program.

"To date our officials have received more than 92 per cent of the 140,000 applications mailed to Prairie producers," Agriculture Minister Bill McKnight said. "We've processed for initial payment nearly 117,000 applications worth a total of approximately $260 million."

The farm aid program was announced last October as part of a comprehensive strategy to deal with the income problems of Canadian farmers. It was designed to provide transitional support until the Gross Revenue Insurance Plan (GRIP) and Net Income Stabilization Account (NISA) become fully effective, in keeping with the recommendations of the Third Line of Defence Committee to address short-term income difficulties for 1990.

In the Prairies, about $574 million has been designated under the grains and oilseeds component of FSAM II. Producers who resided in Alberta, Saskatchewan or Manitoba on Dec. 31, 1990 and who planted crops for harvest in 1990 are eligible to apply.

Applications were mailed in early December to producers who held a 1990-91 Canadian Wheat Board permit book. Eligible producers who did not hold a permit book are being mailed an application upon request to the FSAM II office.

FACING AIDS

THE HIV TEST: DO YOU NEED ONE?

Are you concerned that you may have HIV, the virus that leads to AIDS? It could have happened through unprotected sexual intercourse or sharing needles to inject drugs.

There are many good reasons for wanting to know if you have HIV. Because drugs and treatments are available to help slow the advance of HIV infection, early diagnosis is an important reason to be tested if you have been at risk. Whatever your reason for wanting to find out, it is important to understand the HIV test before deciding to have one.

The AIDS virus is difficult to detect in the body. Instead of looking for the virus, a blood test is done to look for the antibodies which the body produces to fight it. These antibodies take from two weeks to six months to show up in the blood after exposure to HIV. The test can be done by a family doctor or at a Sexually Transmitted Disease (STD) clinic. It usually takes at least two weeks to get the test results. No one else will be told about your test or its results.

Due to the life threatening nature of HIV infection, the decision to have the test may cause a lot of anxiety. Whether the results are positive or negative, it is a stressful time. Discuss the test with a health professional in advance. Be sure you understand what the results mean before being tested.

Many people in Alberta have HIV infection. They look and feel well. In many cases, they don't even know they have the virus. They may be unknowingly spreading HIV to others through unprotected sexual intercourse or sharing needles to inject drugs.

If you have been involved in any of these risky behaviours consider getting tested. Either avoid sexual intercourse or always use a latex condom, and don't share needles. Otherwise you could pass the virus on to others.

Look at your lifestyle. If you are at risk, think seriously about being tested. It is important for you and your partner.

Juniors open play-offs with win

The Cremona Juniors opened their play-offs run on a successful note Sat., Feb. 8, against Carstairs. Early goals by Shera Robertson and Wendy Leask gave Cremona the lead but Kim Koop jumped on a defensive miscue in the Cremona end and converted it into a goal. The first period ended with Cremona clinging to a 2-1 lead.

Cremona stormed out in the second with Wendy completing her hat-trick by the 13:00 minute mark. However, a double body contact penalty to Cremona gave Carstairs the opportunity to get back in the game which they did with a pair of goals. Penalties continued to play an important role as Jim Fournier, Sherry Leask and Stacey Kinch all connected on the power play to secure a 7-3 Cremona victory.

The return of Jerri Lynn Cornforth to the line-up was a great help to the defensive corps of Monica Russell, Amber Havens, Nicole Carleton and goaltender Melissa Foat.

Both teams suffered player loss through injury as Shera Robertson and Kim Koop were forced to leave with leg injuries. Get well soon, girls! The series resumes Thursday night in Carstairs!

On Sunday the girls entertained Olds, and the crowd was treated to a furious-paced first period that ended in a 4-4 tie on Adrienne Blain's second goal with 5 seconds remaining.

The second period was all Cremona as they pumped nine goals into the Olds net. Goal scorers were Jill Fournier (4), Wendy Leask (3), Adrienne Blain (3), Amber Havens (2) and Sherry Leask. Stacey Kinch contributed with 4 assists while Jerri Cornforth had 3 helpers and Monica Russell chipped in with a pair.

Ramblers loose shoot-out

Saturday night saw the Didsbury Ramblers host the Hobbema Oilers in what proved to be a goaltenders nightmare, with Didsbury falling 14-7 to the talented Oilers.

The game appeared to start optimistically for Didsbury with player-coach Al McCoy opening the scoring just over a minute into the game, assisted by Bryan Latimer and Shane Krebs. However, Hobbema responded quickly with a goal by Paul Pilon at 3:50 to tie matters up.

Didsbury regained the lead three minutes later with Bryan Latimer scoring, assisted by McCoy and Alan Shields. However, Hobbema replied with 2 goals from Raymond Mayer and Dwayne Johnson to take a 3-2 lead after the first period, outshooting Didsbury 18 to 12.

The second period proved to be a problem for the Ramblers again with Hobbema dominating play and outscoring the Ramblers 4-0 to take a 7-2 lead into the dressing room. Scoring for Hobbema was Tim Longjohn with two, while singles went to Louis Elliot and Sherman Cutknife. Shots on goal were 16 to 4 for Hobbema.

The game had to be halted with 54 seconds to play in the second after a Hobbema player was hit behind the net and struck his head on the boards. The ambulance was called as a protective measure, but all was fine with the player after he received 11 stitches to close a cut. Didsbury player Jamie Jensen was assessed a match penalty on the play and a review by the league will determine if any suspensions are forthcoming.

The 54 seconds were added on to the third period to give ice officials time to clean the ice.

Didsbury replaced starting goaltender Red Wilson with Marty Krebs to try and shake things up. Unfortunately this proved futile, with Hobbema scoring 38 seconds into the 3rd period on a goal by Sherman Cutknife.

Hobbema struck three more times in a span of one minute and twenty-eight seconds to take an 11-2 lead before both teams erupted for 8 goals in the final thirteen minutes, by Didsbury and 3 more by Hobbema.

Scoring for Didsbury in the third period were Rob Brown with two goals, along with Al McCoy with his second of the night. Shane Krebs and Chris Collinge provided the other markers. Defenceman Steve Wray chipped in with 5 assists.

Scorers in the third period for Hobbema were Paul Pilon with three (part of his 7 point night), Tim Longjohn with two and Raymond Cutknife with two to complete his hat trick.

While entertaining, the loss moves the Ramblers to 3 and 18 still in 5th place in the Chinook League and leaning to a playoff match with the second place Innisfail Eagles, who are in town February 15th in league action.

The Ramblers hope a change of teams and location can shake them back to winning ways with their upcoming Home and Home series against the Vulcan Thunderbirds in the Senior Provincial Playoffs starting this Tuesday.

The Ramblers are home to Vulcan on Wednesday evening and promise a better effort with the return of three regulars in the line up—Mark Ferdine, Ed Krebs and Chris Overwater. Game time is at 8:30 p.m.

Just a reminder that for every Home game where the Ramblers have a paid attendance of 250, a draw for a Portable Colored TV will take place.

Sharks take a break

The Sharks took a break from the schedule this past weekend to attend a tournament in Olds. They started off rather slow, losing the first game 6 to 2 to Olds #3.

Seth Leonard got the Sharks markers while Olds got goals from Aaron Stromsmoe (2), Curtis Ross (2), Brian Bobyk and Greg Thompson. Olds out shot Didsbury 28 to 13 and were 1 for 2 on the Power Play. Didsbury had a missed penalty shot in the third period.

The second game had the Sharks in need of overtime to beat Cremona 7 to 6. In regular play, Seth Leonard scored 4 goals and Scott Murphy got 2. Cremona got goals from Curtis MacRae (3), Stacey Farquharson (2) and Jared Payne. The winning goal came at 2:42 of overtime on a break away by Scott Murphy. The Sharks were 1 for 3 on the Power Play while Cremona was 0 for 1. Cremona out shot Didsbury 25 to 19. This win advanced the Sharks to the B final.

The B Final had the Sharks face off against Olds #1. They took a 2 to 1 lead in the first

Didsbury hosts successful bonspiel

The Didsbury Curling Club hosted a Mixed Open Bonspiel this past weekend. Sixteen teams from as far away as Calgary and Innisfail competed for top honors in three events. All the spectators enjoyed the high calibre of curling exhibited by the rinks. Winners were as follows: A Event - Bob Whitlow Rink; B Event - Carson Schultz Rink; C Event - Rod Collinge Rink.

Howard and Laura Krebs served a wonderful roast beef supper at the Eldon Foote Hall. The newly renovated premises provided an excellent location for the teams to socialize and dance to the music of Andy Shewchuk.

with goals from Seth and Joe Leonard. Responding for Olds was Ryan Matison. The Sharks increased their lead in the second to 5 to 3. Chris Christensen, Phillip McNeil and James MacRae all scored for Didsbury while Chris Overwater and Kyle Sande scored for Olds.

Olds made it close when Chris Overwater scored in the third, but Didsbury locked down the win with markers from Scott Murphy, Seth Leonard and Phillip McNeil. Didsbury was 2 to 5 on the Power Play and Olds was 1 for 2. Didsbury out shot Olds 24 to 11.

Dragons tournament hot

By Janice Harrington

This year's Didsbury Dragons Invitational Basketball Tournament ended with a bang as the girls' teams from David Thompson School took first place after a hard fought 65-58 victory over an All-Star team from the Northwest Territories.

The final match-up, played Saturday afternoon at the Westglen High School, ended the long standing annual tournament, which began the weekend of January 30 with the boys' tournament.

Lady Dragons coach Brian McCargar was pleased with the tournament and the amount of talent shown by all the teams.

"All the teams were quite even although the team from the Northwest Territories was quite strong. Everything went very smoothly and everyone showed great sportsmanship."

The boys' tournament was captured by the Chestermere Lakers who defeated the Strathcona-Tweedsmuir Spartans for the title. Strathcona player Drew Hyndman was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player. Didsbury took third place by beating out the Strathcona Eagles. First all-stars went to Scott Stetson of Didsbury, Dave Swan of Strathcona-Christian, and Kory Taylor and Brian Hunter of Chestermere. Second all-stars were given to Shane Wilkins of Didsbury and Marty Hamm of the Carstairs Trojans.

The Didsbury girls' team managed to capture the consolation side title in their tournament by beating High River's Senator Riley Regals 34 to 21. Third place over-all went to the H.J. Cody Lakers from Sylvan Lake after their 51-45 win over the Riverglen Royals of Red Deer. Most Valuable Player awards in the girls' tournament went to Paullete Coe and Terra Ward of the NWT, Krista McMullen of Riverglen, Becky Kelsall of Didsbury and Tracy Knopp and Tracey Alexander of the David Thompson team.

CREMONA/WATER VALLEY NEWS

Balloonists ready for flight

By Janice Harrington

Hot air balloon enthusiasts from around the province are gearing up for the second annual Cremona Hot Air Balloon Festival on February 29 and 30 with the hopes of raising enough money to purchase a jaws of life for the Cremona Fire Department.

Dwain Eslinger, organizer for the festival, said 10 balloons are signed up and ready to fly each morning of the festival. Passengers are also signing up for the fun at a cost of $75 each ride. Proceeds of this will go to the Cremona Fire Department for the purchase of the piece of equipment referred to as the "Jaws of Life." These jaws are instrumental in saving lives in accidents and are sorely needed in the area.

Eslinger said this is the first year the festival has been run in conjunction with the Fire department.

"This is generally a slow period for balloonists and we also get to help out the town and the fire department, so we hope it is just as successful as last year."

Last year, 10 balloons participated in the festival, launching from the Cremona School yard. Because high winds prevented all but two balloons from getting in the air last year, organizers have chosen an alternate launch site against a hill if wind conditions are too severe.

Passengers who would like a winter ride in a hot air balloon are being encouraged to call the festival organizers and sign up. The $75 cost of the ride will be divided: $25 to the balloon pilot and $50 to the fire department.

So far, 10 balloons have signed up for the festival, but organizers are still taking registration for others who would like to participate. If you would like more information, contact Chris Fitzgerald at 637-2078 or Dwain Eslinger at 637-3826.

Cremona team busy

By Ryan Robertson

The weekend of Feb. 7, 8 and 9 not only proved to be the busiest, but in many ways perhaps the longest, for our Novice Team this season.

Besides playing in the Olds Mighty-Mite Tournament all weekend, the Club also played it's Final League Game in Cremona on Saturday against Crossfield. In that one, the Team ended it's regular season on a winning note, 13-0.

The game featured many good moments for Cremona, but in particular, smiles were placed on the faces of Nate Arye and Kyle Papke as they scored their first goals.

A special thanks goes to Aaron Robertson who by playing for Crossfield not only gave them an extra man, but showed good sportsmanship. On the same day the Dynamites travelled to Crossfield and fought out a 5-3 victory.

Samir Thoeny backstopped the Team, while Dusty Ryan and Jesse Zinter each scored a pair of goals. Lawrence Landry added assurance. Good game guys!

Tournament-wise for the Novice Team it was a weekend of experience and at times utter disbelief. Friday night and Saturday afternoon saw the Team squander leads in the 3rd Period, and Lady Luck ran out on them. Friday night against Olds 4, an empty net goal by Olds with just 17 seconds remaining ended Dreams-of-a-First Game Victory and Cremona was downed 6-4.

Saturday against Didsbury 1, a similar script, but they unfortunately lost a heart-breaker in sudden-death overtime 7-6.

On Sunday they battled Ken Smith's Carstairs 1 Team to a 2-2 regulation time tie. The playing of 5 minutes of overtime proved to be no difference to the score, but a Tournament ruling that the Team who scored the First Goal in the game in such a situation would prevail gave the nod to Carstairs.

Way to go Guys, you played hard and were definitely in every game. You did us proud!

A big thank you to all the people concerned with the Olds Tournament, it was a super effort!

In closing, don't forget the Bantam All-Star Game on Saturday, Feb. 15, at the Cremona Arena.

Hall finishing awaits grant

By Janice Harrington

Finishing construction of the new Carstairs community hall is awaiting funding which the Carstairs and District Community Hall Association hope will come from the federal government.

Harvey Bazinet, Vice Chairperson of the Association said they hope to hear by the end of February whether or not they will receive a Canadian cultural grant applied for last year.

In the mean time, roughing in of the plumbing, heating and gyprock is nearing completion, and Association members are also busy organizing a work bee with volunteers on February 22 to finish overcoat-ing of the gyprock.

Construction of the new community hall began last September and Bazinet said the Association hopes it will be finished sometime in April.

"But all of that depends on what we hear about the grant. All the work up to now has been paid for already, so we need the extra money to finish it up," he said. "But we aren't just relying on that, we are also doing door-to-door fundraising and applying for other grants like from the province through the lotteries."

The door-to-door canvassing the Association is currently undertaking seeks donations or interest free loans from residents of the area. Bazinet said people who take part in this will have the chance to win a special grand opening lottery. Donations or debentures of $250 or $500 qualify residents to purchase tickets to the hall's grand opening gala, and automatically puts them into the draw for a cash prize of 40 percent of the funds raised through the sale of the grand opening tickets.

The Association, which was formed in March of last year, is acting as its own general contractor in the construction of the hall. The old community hall, now vacant, is currently in the process of being sold.

FACING AIDS

HIV AND AIDS IN ALBERTA

More than 1600 Albertans are known to have HIV infection, the AIDS virus. These numbers are only the tip of the iceberg. There are likely several thousand others who are infected but don't know it. Many people who have HIV infection feel fine. They may deny they have taken part in risky behaviour - unprotected sex or sharing needles to inject drugs - the two most common ways the infection is spread.

Of those now infected, most will develop AIDS within ten years. AIDS is the last stage of infection with HIV. More than 250 men, women and children have died of AIDS in our province so far, and an equal number are extremely ill. People with AIDS live in Edmonton, Calgary, smaller cities, towns and rural areas.

It is estimated that in some countries over half the population is infected with HIV. The World Health Organization (WHO) reports that 60 per cent of all HIV infections worldwide occur through sex between men and women. Those numbers don't apply to Alberta yet, but those becoming infected through heterosexual behaviour is rising.

AIDS is clearly not limited to certain high risk groups. AIDS is not restricted by social status, race, sexual orientation or good intentions. High risk behaviours, not group association, spreads HIV.

The good news is that we have a choice over these risky behaviours. More and more men and women are protecting themselves and their partners. They practice safer sex and do not share unclean needles or syringes.

Make informed choices. Reduce the risk of becoming HIV infected or spreading AIDS. You can make a difference. Watch for more news columns in this paper and television features during the FACING AIDS campaign. February 1st to May 2nd.

Facts about Math 30

A recent news release from the Alberta Teachers' Association complained about implementation of the new Math 30 curriculum. Here are the facts:

- The changes to the Math 30 curriculum were sent to schools by June 1, 1991. June 1 is a set deadline for changes to curriculum that will be implemented in the following September. The deadline was met.

- Changes to the Math 30 curriculum for 1992 are not extensive. In fact, roughly two-thirds of the curriculum remains the same. Major changes were in statistics, permutations and combinations, and quadratic relations. Of the changes made, 92 per cent of them were approved by the various math and senior high school curriculum committees, including representatives of the ATA.

- Teacher Resource Manuals are designed to assist teachers with implementing curriculum. They give teachers ideas about how to present components of the curriculum. They are helpful to teachers but not essential for teachers to have before they teach a course. The Manuals were available to teachers in August.

- Information about the diploma exam for Math 30 was provided to teachers at the end of September. This is the same time that teachers regularly receive information about all diploma exams. Information about the new Math 30 components was highlighted in the exam bulletins.

- The quadratic relations component of the Math 30 curriculum can be taught at any time in the course but most teachers prefer to teach this component later in the course when students are more able to deal with the abstract concepts involved.

- Province-wide inservice sessions were held in May and June of 1991. In the fall of 1991, the department arranged inservice sessions on the quadratic relations section. Approximately 500 math teachers attended. This means that almost every math teacher who teaches Math 30 was able to attend an inservice on the new curriculum before they were required to teach the new components of the course.

Students do not have to have a graphing calculator for either the course or the exam. They need to have access to a graphing calculator or a computer that has graphing capabilities during the course but not for the exam.

- Student materials for the quadratic relations section were available in December and involved a combination of print and video materials. These distance learning materials proved to be very popular with teachers and our indications are that they were used extensively. One principal wrote to say, "These videos have been of great value to our mathematics teachers. . . They feel that these tapes are the best Christmas presents a mathematics teacher could receive."

- In the fall, a focus group session was held involving a cross-section of people: teachers, parents, an engineer, a lawyer, a nurse, students and a university math professor. The assessment of the new math curriculum was overwhelmingly positive.

- Changes to the quadratic relations section have received support from the Mathematics department at the University of Alberta.

- At an international conference on mathematics, Alberta's new approach to the quadratic relations section was described as a program which will change the way quadratic relations is taught in North America because its focus is on teaching towards understanding of the concepts.

- Although concerns were expressed by some individual math teachers, the ATA did not formally express any concerns about implementation of the new curriculum until the news conference on Jan. 28, 1992, the day before students wrote the Math 30 diploma exam.

- It's premature to talk about the impact of the curriculum changes on the Math 30 diploma exams. Further information will be provided as soon as student results are available.

- It is our regular practice to look very carefully at diploma exam results. Our top priority is to be fair to students. We rely on teachers who mark the exams to give us their advice. If it looks like students had a great deal of difficulty with questions on the new components of the curriculum, we will look at that issue. But, overall, high standards must be maintained. The expectations for students in the Math 30 curriculum are clear and students must be able to meet those expectations in order to do well in the course.

RCMP report

Didsbury R.C.M.P. responded to a total of 142 complaints from Jan. 21 to Feb. 4, 1992.

Of these, 26 were criminal code related and 14 were motor vehicle accidents. There were 26 traffic tickets, 4 liquor Act, and 7 written warnings were issued.

Four persons were charged with impaired driving.

Didsbury R.C.M.P. are continuing to investigate the early morning break and entry of the Didsbury Fas-Gas Service Station Feb. 6 when thieves gained entry by smashing their way through a plate glass door. Once inside, a large quantity of cigarettes was removed from the store.

Anyone having information about this incident is asked to phone Didsbury R.C.M.P. or Crimestoppers immediately.

Southwest Didsbury news

By Mrs. Bessie Eckstrand

Sympathy of the area is extended to the Kuekler family as father Joses Kuekler of Germany passed away Jan. 27 at the age of 96 years, following a short stay in the hospital.

Bev, Gerald and Martha Felker and Cliff and Bessie Eckstrand motored to south Calgary to James Felkers, Saturday, Feb. 1 for a lovely supper and birthday cake to help celebrate grandson and great grandson's first birthday. Dylan Felker is the son of Marla and James Felker (real date Jan. 30.)

Their home was tastefully decorated with colored balloons and everyone had fun taking a video, including Dylan who is almost walking.

Walter Felker, of the Didsbury Hospital, was able with the help of the Handi Bus and family, travel to his home west of Carstairs to celebrate his 74 birthday with wife Martha and family.

Walter has been ill since the end of Oct. 1991 and it was nice that he was able to make the trip. We do hope your health continues to improve, Walter.

The Westcott brunch, Feb. 4 was well attended by about 20 ladies with Angeline Murphy and Ethel Baudistel as hostesses. All enjoyed visiting and the lovely lunch.

The Knox U.C.W. met in the church C.E. room for the first meeting of the year on Jan. 28. Pres. Beulah Gilson welcomed everyone and all repeated the U.C.W. Creed.

Rev. Doug Waite conducted the devotional, The Grace of Jesus Christ and The Love of God, and reported on the meeting of the "Division of Mission" in Canada and tried out some new songs.

Plans were made to have the World Day of Prayer at Knox Church on March 6 at 1:30 p.m.

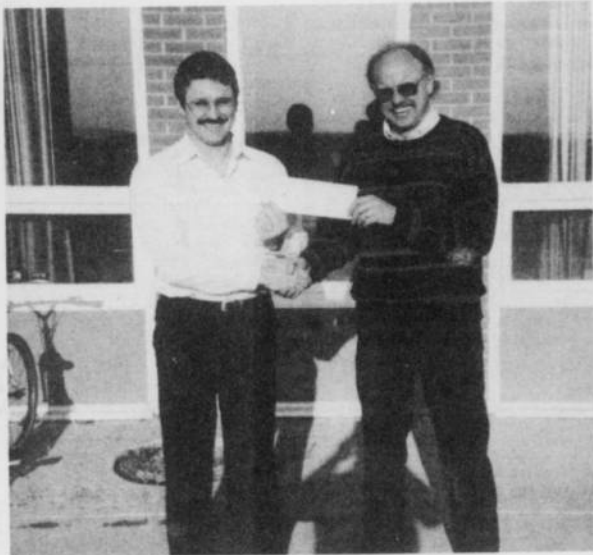

Also plans to attend the meeting of the Red Deer

Presbyterian U.C.W. meeting to be held in Olds United Church on Feb. 29, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Everyone was shocked with the former Auction Mart burned down. Certainly lucky there wasn't a wind, or the nearby homes would have been in danger. Do hope it is in operation again, soon.

Weather. Who knows what to say about it? Lovely, tremendous, not much use heading south, eh? Little change this Friday morning and we hear cold weather is ahead. Anyway everyone has enjoyed the winter, only now the calves are starting to come and wondered if the trees and plants would begin to grow. Someone reported their tulips were coming up. If they know what is good for them, they had better stay where they are.

The competition of our future scientists and technologists is fast approaching. It is with a great sense of pride and gratitude that Milt Sanders of Mountainview Science and Technology Society accepts a cheque from Wayne Hawkes, Crossfield Operating Centre Administrator, of Amoco Canada that makes this endeavor a partnership of the business community and our schools.

Crimestopper need help to solve sexual assault

I'm Cst. MacKinnon for the Central Alberta Crimestoppers Program. Crimestoppers is looking for your help in identifying a male responsible for a sexual assault. On August 24, 1991, at approximately 3:20 a.m., a man broke into a residence at Overdown Drive in Red Deer. The young man sexually assaulted a woman who was at home with her children. As the woman struggled with the man, she was able to bite her attacker on the hand.

The attacker was described as a white male, about 18 years old, 5'8", slim build, 140 lbs., dirty blond, wavy hair. At the time of the incident, he was wearing a blue sweatshirt top, light faded blue jeans and running shoes. He may have had an injury to the fingers on his right hand.

If you have any information on the identity of this attacker, call Crimestoppers now at 340-TIPS, that is 340-8477, or toll free at 1-800-661-TIPS. You never have to give our name and if your tip leads to an arrest, you qualify for a cash award of up to 2,000 dollars. Crimestoppers serves all Central Alberta.

OLDS NEWS

Waste Management Seminar scheduled

An Open House is being held Thursday, February 27, 1992 at Olds College to examine possible waste management and composting initiatives in the area.

Representatives from the College will be joined by Stanley Industrial Consultants Limited, Procter & Gamble Inc., Alberta Environment, the Town of Olds, Greenleaf, the Sundre Recycling Society, and the Mountain View Regional Waste Management Authority in the Alumni Centre from 7-10 p.m. to offer innovative ideas and answer questions about composting technology.

Ed Shaw, Project Manager for the College's Extension Services Department, is helping organize the event. "We're hoping the meeting will spark people's interest and concern over what waste management might mean for this community not only today, but tomorrow as well," Shaw comments. "It's only by asking questions that we can begin to contemplate what's possible for the future."

Last June, Olds College contract Stanley Industrial Consultants Limited investigate the feasibility of establishing a Centre of Excellence of Composting Technology. The final phase of the study, jointly sponsored by Procter & Gamble Inc. and Alberta Environment, is nearing completion and contains information on such aspects as:

- The role of the Centre of Excellence;
- Composting methods;
- Types of input materials;
- Site location and preparation;
- Environmental considerations;
- Product disposal;
- Possible funding sources.

Olds College Director, Finance and Administration, Ted Sadlowski, is encouraged by what the consultants have to say so far. "From reading their initial report, it appears they are very optimistic industry will support the project." Sadlowski adds the time is right to see how strongly public support will follow.

"If the Centre of Excellence in Composting Technology were to proceed, it could provide useful information on composting technologies to municipalities, industries, and the homeowners."

Those interested in learning more about how to make your own compost at home, recycle effectively, and what the future holds in waste management are invited to take in the informative displays open for viewing between 7 and 10 p.m. in the Alumni Centre. Complimentary coffee and doughnuts will be provided.

Olds Koinonia E.C.S. Open House

The E.C.S. Kindergarten of the Olds Koinonia Christian School will be having an Open House for those interested parents with pre-school children within the County. The Open House will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 18, 9:00 a.m. - 12 Noon, Thursday, Feb. 20, 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 25, 9:00 a.m. - 12 Noon and Thursday, March 5, 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

The kindergarten runs full days on Tuesday and Thursday each week throughout the school year and follows the E.C.S. philosophies in developing programs and services to meet the developmental needs of children five years of age. Children experience a wide range of reading readiness games and activities as well as important skills such as patterning through an exciting hands-on Math program for understanding numbers. Self concept is enriched through individualized programs such as "centres" and opportunities for sharing as well as drama and music.

Local and regional services and resources are used in program planning for children and parents. This includes many field trips to various community services. Family involvement is also an important part of the E.C.S. program.

As well as the physical, emotional, social, intellectual and creative needs, Koinonia E.C.S. strives to meet the spiritual needs of their students. The foundations for program planning in this area can be found in Deuteronomy 6:5-7 which states, "And you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul, and with all your might. And these words which I command you today, shall be in your heart; you shall teach them diligently to your children."

Parents are welcome to call the school at 556-4038 or the Coordinator, Marg Kinnear at 556-2715 if they have any questions regarding the E.C.S. program or the Open House.

Milli Vanilli comes to town

It all began two years ago at Didsbury High School. To entertain the student body, the student's council devised an activity that emulated the most famous of all pretenders, Milli Vanilli. And so was born the Milli Vanilli Lip Sync Contest. This year's student's council has raised the contest to a higher level.

On Feb. 21, at 8:00 in the multipurpose room of the Didsbury Memorial Complex, Milli Vanilli returns! The Milli Vanilli Academy Awards are open for participation to all students of Westglen and DHS and all members of the community are invited to join in as a part of the audience. The winners of the event will be chosen by a panel of celebrity judges and the first prize will be $100! The DHS Jazz Choir will also be an exciting part of the evenings entertainment.

Any student or group of students interested in participating in this history-making event can obtain, and return, the application forms at the offices of Westglen or DHS. The forms must be completed and handed in by February 18. See you at the Awards!

First glass

The Glenbow Museum is coming to Carstairs through a special loan of artifacts which will be on view in the Roulston Museum. The display, which features examples of early Canadian-made glass from across the country will be on view February through April.

Mallorytown Glass Works was the first glass company in Canada. It started in 1825 in Mallorytown, Ontario and was in operation until about 1840. However, it wasn't until the late 1870's that the industry began to expand with about thirty companies being established in Central Canada and the Maritimes. They produced non-lead small functional pieces and glass bottles. Pressed glass, in which the glass was pressed into molds, was the mainstay of their product lines and featured patriotic themes or designs resembling expensive cut leaded glass. Occasionally, original pieces were produced for decorative use such as paperweights and these were greatly admired.

This display is part of Glenbow's Rural Loans Program, which extends Museum access to Alberta communities. Small exhibits are circulated on a three month rotating schedule and housed in a single, permanent display case.

Returns with no refund still need to be filed

Many low income taxpayers expecting a refund this year may be in for a surprise. Effective with the 1991 tax return, there will be longer be a Federal Sales Tax Credit. To many of these taxpayers, their entire refunds in the past may have been derived from the Federal Sales Tax Credit.

This change however, does not relieve a taxpayer of the need to file a tax return. The Goods and Services Tax Credit, which replaces the Federal Sales Tax Credit and is paid quarterly to qualifying taxpayers, is itself based on the tax return. Each 1991 tax return contains a Goods and Services Tax Credit Application Form that must be filed with the tax return to qualify for the credit. If no 1991 tax return is filed with Revenue Canada, there will be no GST cheques issued (beginning with the July 1992 cheque).

When there is little or no taxable income being reported on a tax return and no refund or balance due, the temptation is great not to file the return at
